

Israel, Palestine and the US

A 6-week workshop

This 6-week class is designed for people who want to understand the current conflict between Israelis and Palestinians. We will also explore the US role in this conflict, particularly the decades long US support of Israel and how the US media frames this issue.

We will use two books; Phyllis Bennis's Understanding the Palestinian-Israeli Conflict: A Primer, and Jonathan Cook's Disappearing Palestine: Israel's Experiments in Human Despair. We already have copies of the Bennis book (for $5) but you will need to order Disappearing Palestine. We will begin with the Bennis book.

The class is not being offered at this time, but please check back in the future for when it is available.

The cost of the class is $20, which does not include the cost of the books. We need a minimum of 6 people to have this class with a maximum of 12 participants.
